What is the All About Watershed Portal?

- A clearinghouse for information about forest and watershed health in New Mexico and the Southwest
- A toolbox for collaboration
- A product built for you by New Mexico State Forestry and the New Mexico Forest and Watershed Restoration Institute

On allaboutwatersheds.org...

- Find local collaborative groups, partners, projects
- Set up your own group workspace
- Find, create, and share resources
- Advertise events
- Post news
- and more...

All for free!

Get started:

Go to allaboutwatersheds.org

The screenshot shows the homepage of the All About Watersheds website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Home, About, Announcements, Library, Groups, Partners, and Help. The main header features the New Mexico Forest & Watershed Health logo and the title "ALL ABOUT WATERSHEDS Forest and Watershed Health Information Clearinghouse". A secondary navigation bar includes "Register" and "LOG IN" buttons. The main content area is divided into several sections: a "You are here" breadcrumb trail pointing to "home", a welcome message, a "Search For Content" box with search filters, a featured article titled "Restoring Composition and Structure in Southwestern Frequent-Fire Forests" with a "READ MORE" button, a row of small image thumbnails, and three columns of content: "Funding and Job Announcements" (including a job announcement for an Ecological Educator), "News and Events" (including a Reno Conference feedback link and a seminar on post-wildfire flooding), and "Recent Additions" (including a link to join the International Association of Wildland Fire and photos from a strategy workshop). On the right side, there are three more sections: "HOW TO PARTICIPATE", "FIND INFORMATION", and "FIND GROUPS and ACTIVITIES". At the bottom right, there is a "KNOW YOUR WATERSHED!" section. The browser's address bar shows "allaboutwatersheds.org" and the Windows taskbar is visible at the very bottom.

WildfireWorkshopFlyer_Draft2 — by Susan Rich — last modified Apr 09, 2018 12:04 PM

Based on the recent input I have updated the flyer, see attachment. A few items need to be added, such as who will be the e-mail contact to reserve spots and who will be listed for more contact information? Also do we have location and time information yet? Please check for typos. Layout can also be modified. Thanks! -Patti

A navigation menu includes links for Home, About, News & Events, Announcements, Library, Groups, Partners, and Help. The user is logged in as "Susan Rich" and has access to a dashboard, preferences, and site setup options.

The main content area displays the "Wildfire Mitigation and Planning Project Workgroup" workspace. It includes a breadcrumb trail: home > groups > wildfire mitigation and planning project. Below this, there are tabs for "contents", "view", "edit", and "sharing", along with filters for "sub-types", "actions", "display", "add new", and "state: published".

The workspace description states: "This Workgroup is building a suite of online tools for professionals and community leaders involved in mitigating wildfire risk and responding to post-fire conditions. The group created this workspace on All About Watersheds for presentations and resource materials." It also lists "Group News", "Public Collaborative Group Folder", and "Private Collaborative Group Folder" with "Read More..." links.

On the right side, there is an "Events" section with a red circle highlighting the following options: "Calendar", "Add Events", "Events List View", and "Next 30 Days". Below this is a "Group Email" section with an option to "Email members of the Group" and a link to the "Wildfire Mitigation and Planning Project Workgroup". The "Group Members" section lists four members: kwitnall (Kalahdin Witnall), rich (Susan Rich), mluever (Mary Luever), and prtappen (Patti Dappen), with a "Manage contacts" link below.

Project Coordination Task Team

by Susan Rich — last modified Nov 05, 2015 10:05 AM — History

Group formed to identify potential landscape scale projects and facilitate coordination across jurisdictions at the executive level.

The Project Coordination Task Team was established by a group of natural resource management executives in October 2011. Its purpose is to identify potential landscape scale restoration projects and to coordinate planning, data sharing and funding required to move selected projects forward.

The group is a task team of the New Mexico Forest and Watershed Health Coordinating Group.

NOTE: The Project Coordination Task Team completed its original assignment in 2012. The coordination function of the Task Team was continued by the full Coordinating Group since that time. Members decided to take a new look at identifying statewide priorities during the October 2015 meeting of the Watershed Management Subcommittee/Coordinating Group. NM State Forestry, working with partners, is taking the lead on the next steps for this process. An update will be provided at the January 2016 meeting.

Immediate Safety

Safety is a primary issue immediately following a destructive wildfire. This section offers some general advice on steps to take after disaster strikes in order to begin getting your home, your community and your life back to normal.

Welcome to the After Wildfire Guide

Experiencing a destructive wildfire can be devastating. This guide was written to help New Mexico communities recover after wildfire. It includes information on how to mobilize your community, a list of resources available to communities and individuals for assistance, and a technical guide with information about post-fire treatments to address the catastrophic effects of a wildfire on the land and to prepare for potential flooding. If you are reading this guide before a wildfire occurs, use it to help you plan ahead.

This guide is intended to provide useful information during this difficult time, and to start you on the road to recovery.
