October 2013

AWF MONTHLY MEETING

Thursday, October 10, 2013
7:30 pm
Manzano Mesa Center

Guest Speaker:
Eliza Kretzmann

Topic:
The Cibola National Forest & the New Planning Rule

AWF MEETING LOCATION

Manzano Mesa Multigenerational Center
501 Elizabeth SE at Southern

Our speaker for the October 10, 2013 AWF meeting will be Eliza Kretzmann, Resilient Habitats Organizer for the Sierra Club. Eliza has many years of experience in environmental and restoration issues in New Mexico, having previously worked with Earthworks Institute and River Source, as well as serving as the Executive Director of the Railyard Park Stewards in Santa Fe.

Eliza's talk will focus on the new planning rule for the Cibola Forest, which encompasses 1.6 million acres of magnificent land in New Mexico, and how members of the public can get involved in setting the agenda for how these lands are managed for many years to come.

Save the Lobos!
Come to the rally and hearing on Friday, Oct. 4th (see page 4 of this newsletter for all the details)!

RECAP OF SEPTEMBER SERVICE PROJECT

Limestone Canyon - September 13-15, 2013

Due to a week of record-breaking rains (including over 5.3 inches in Socorro, near our project site!) the Forest Service unfortunately canceled AWF's September project. However, nine hardy volunteers who had planned to attend the project decided to go ahead and spend the weekend camping in the San Mateo Mountains.

Enjoy these "before and after" photos! We plan to post more on the AWF website. All were taken either September 16, 2012 or September 14, 2013. See you there in 2014!

When we visited Limestone Canyon on Saturday morning, we were amazed at how high the flows were: bankful and in some areas, overflowing the banks! Even the small tributary Fisher Canyon was a raging river. It was a remarkable opportunity to see how the many rock structures AWF volunteers have built in past years function in heavy flows. We are very excited to return again next year to see what the canyon looks like in the aftermath of this record precipitation and to continue to build on our past efforts.

SAVE THE LOBOS!

Rally and testify at a public hearing to save the lobo from extinction, October 4th in Albuquerque!

Fifteen years after they were reintroduced, fewer than 75 Mexican gray wolves (lobos) remain in the wild.

The US Fish and Wildlife Service is now proposing to delist gray wolves and implement changes that threaten the survival and recovery of Mexican wolves. Only one hearing will be held on both proposals: October 4th in Albuquerque, NM.

Science and conservation groups throughout the region and beyond are organizing a Save the Lobo event on the day of the hearing. Special interests will be out in force calling for an end to wild wolves. You and other supporters of the Mexican wolf are all that stand between extinction and survival for these critically endangered, beautiful and intelligent animals. Please stand up and speak up for the lobo on October 4th!

THANK YOU!

Our thanks to Molly Samsell & David Hess and Glenda & Dennis Muirhead for their donations to AWF in honor of the September 21, 2013 marriage of AWF Projects Committee member Phil Carter and AWF Vice-President Kristina G. Fisher! As longtime dedicated AWF volunteers, Phil and Kristina couldn't imagine a better way to celebrate their union than by supporting AWF's continuing restoration and education work.
